ABOUT THIS WINERY

Terre da Vino is a huge cooperative bringing together more than 2,500 producers from the Barolo region in Italy. The eponymous appellation covers 1,800 hectares of vineyards spread over 11 municipalities, and several old indigenous grape varieties are present in the vineyard. This company brings together all the elements that major producers must bring together, and Terre da Vino is without a doubt one of the best in all of Italy.

TASTING NOTES

PRODUCT NOTES

The signature of Vite Colte is the competence of the winegrower. Behind each Vite Colte wine, there is a face, a story and a family.

PRODUCTION NOTES

It is produced entirely from Barbera grapes, grown without the use of chemicals. These grapes, from organic farming, enjoy an indisputable quality. Vinification takes place traditionally, with subsequent malolactic fermentation and aging in the bottle.
