TASTING NOTES

Gaudensius is a sparkling wine with a refined perlage, fine grain, continuous and persistent, characterized by colors with shades tending towards bright gold, with a complex flavor and at the same time of rare elegance. Pairings as an aperitif, with mushroom or fish ravioli

PRODUCT NOTES

It is a perfect union between the vines that have their roots in volcanic soils (650 meters) and the mountain climate that only Etna can offer. The suggestive glass of the famous and centuries-old Nerello Mascalese sparkling in white in the Cavanera winery on Mount Etna is an example of absolute style.

PRODUCTION NOTES

The sparkling process takes place according to the "blanc de noir" method to improve the organoleptic characteristics of Nerello Mascalese. After the soft pressing of the unstemmed bunches, the vinification takes place inside the cellar created in the typical farmhouse of Etna dating from the 17th century. 36 months on slats.
