ABOUT THIS WINERY

Terre da Vino is a huge cooperative bringing together more than 2,500 producers from the Barolo region in Italy. The eponymous appellation covers 1,800 hectares of vineyards spread over 11 municipalities, and several old indigenous grape varieties are present in the vineyard. This company brings together all the elements that major producers must bring together, and Terre da Vino is without a doubt one of the best in all of Italy.

TASTING NOTES

PRODUCT NOTES

Barolo is a great red wine with a venerable history, whose qualities were appreciated by the famous statesman Camillo Benso, Conte di Cavour.

It is produced exclusively from the nebbiolo grape. The vineyards that produced this particular Barolo are in the best wine-growing areas of the classic production area.

PRODUCTION NOTES

Following a traditional and meticulous vinification, the Barolo remains for 2 years in oak barrels.
