ABOUT THIS WINERY

In 2013, Resonance is Maison Louis Jadot's first wine project outside Burgundy since its founding in 1859. The project is led by renowned Jadot winemaker, Jacques Lardière, who draws on more than 40 years of experience in the hilly countryside of Burgundy and applies it to one of the most exciting emerging Pinot Noir regions in the world.

TASTING NOTES

Intense color with pretty red reflections. The complex nose, with notes of black cherry, blond tobacco, black truffle, violet flowers and noble essences of wood. The palate reveals a perfect harmony between the tannic structure and the aromatic complexity, while the minerality gives a vibrant finish, suggesting a long life. Pairings with veal chop, grilled tuna and beetroot salad

PRODUCTION NOTES

Harvesting ripe but not overripe grapes. Each vintage is different, depending on the needs of the grapes - the macerations vary in duration and temperature without the addition of yeast and a time in barrels.
