ABOUT THIS WINERY

Gregory Hecht and François Bannier have become partners by sharing the same passion for the immense little-known vineyard which stretches from Provence to Languedoc, and have given themselves the mission of making it shine by shaping their own products. Each of their wines, blended from different grape varieties and plots, is the fruit of a mature common reflection.

TASTING NOTES

Clear color with green reflections which is transported to aromas of citrus, peaches and flowers. The grape varieties bring this lively and crunchy side and a wonderful balance of fresh fruit, acidity and minerality. Pairings with tapas, fish and cheese.

PRODUCT NOTES

Around the Etang de Thau, the grape varieties benefit from the relatively cool terroir on which the vines "look" at the sea. This maritime influence throughout the summer will help preserve the acidity in the grapes.

PRODUCTION NOTES

Grape varieties with late maturity, they are in line with the climatic conditions offered by the Mediterranean rim and allow their aromatic flavors to be preserved until the harvest at the end of September, early October for some Piquepouls.
